Easter Offering

The 2015 Easter Offering will help support two initiatives at West End Ministries. The first initiative is the Thursday Community Meals and the other programs that help provide supplemental food for our West End neighbors. (A number of people from Wesley Memorial already volunteer to serve these meals.) The other initiative is a program that encourages youth from the West End neighborhood to attend college by taking them on tours to colleges in the Triad, Charlotte, and Atlanta. (They have taken 50 students on these tours and 43 of them are enrolled in college.) Contributions may be made online at www.wesley memorial.org or by check or cash to WMUMC and marked Easter Offering.

Imagine...

- ...a child hearing about God's mighty power and love for the first time.
- ...kids worshipping in powerful ways.

MYF: Greensboro Grasshoppers Game on 4/19

In my opinion, one of the greatest benefits of spring is the start of baseball season! For this month's MYF, we are going to see the Greensboro Grasshoppers take on the Delmarva Shorebirds on April 19. It should be a great opportunity to enjoy the sun, and relax on a nice Sunday afternoon. Please bring $10 and arrive at the church at 3 pm that day for the game, which is at 4 pm. Please bring extra money if you plan on eating at the stadium. We hope to see you there!

Confirmation Sunday on 4/12

On April 12, our confirmands will complete their journey through Confirmation by affirming their vows to Wesley Memorial and the global UMC by taking part in Confirmation Sunday. This is a great time in the life of our WMUMC community, because it shows our students making commitments to God, each other, and the church. I hope you can join us for the 11 am service as our students make their pledges.

Spring Workshop FINAL DEADLINE on 4/10

If you have not signed up for Spring Workshop yet, our final deadline is April 10. It is going to be an awesome time for the Student Ministries. Think of this as a "mini-Church Camp". We will be going to Camp Canaan in Rock Hill, SC. The trip dates are 4/24-26. The final deadline cost for the trip is $225. We'd love for your student to be with us! If you have any questions or concerns (i.e. safety, scholarships, etc.), please contact Jay.

Church Camp Planning Meetings THIS MONTH

8th Graders, we are in the midst of planning this year's Church Camp! We will be meeting ~2 times per month to help plan out a great week at Christmount! If you'd like more information, or would like to know when the next planning meeting is, please contact Jay.

All-American Lock-Out on 6/5-6

HIGH SCHOOLERS! We have an event that's just for you! On June 5-6, we are having an "All-American Lock-Out"! What is an All-American Lock-out? The lock-out starts at 5 pm on the 5th with dinner. We'll then head to a baseball game, and finally go to Spare Time Entertainment for bowling and games! It should be a blast! Be sure to put this on your calendar, and we'll give more information in the upcoming weeks!

Community Garden News

Wesley Memorial is exploring ways to partner with Macedonia Community Resource Center to expand the community garden that they provide on their campus. This garden currently provides small raised beds and seeds for about 25 households and they have a waiting list. We are exploring ways to join with MCRC to provide about 25 additional raised beds. In addition, we are looking into experimenting with 5 to 10 raised beds on the campus of Wesley Memorial. This year these beds would be planted and tended by groups at Wesley Memorial with the produce being donated to local ministries. If you have interest in participating in one or both of these projects, please call Tish Schultheiss at 812-4808.

Native American Ministries Sunday

Almost since the beginning, the people called Methodist have been in ministry with Native Americans. When John Wesley came to colonial America in 1737, a part of his ministry was to the "Georgian Indians" (e.g., Cherokee, Choctaw, Chicasaw, Uchee, Creek nations) around Savannah. Native American Methodists have made and continue to make significant contributions to the work and witness of our Church. Triad United Methodist Church in Greensboro is one of the Native American congregations in our Conference. Native American Ministries Sunday, the third Sunday in April – recognizes this contribution and the special offering helps provide seminary scholarships and empower outreach across the church.

Special needs:

- Protein items
- Juice Boxes

The Wesley 100/UMM purchased 14 "liquid candles" for use in the 2 candelabras in the Sanctuary. These candelabras are used for weddings and other special services. (Liquid candles are safer, cleaner, and less costly to burn than regular wax candles.)

Way Up High...Birdie?

WMS is proud to announce the publication of its very first book! Way Up High...Birdie? has been a collaborative effort of author Ryan Melino (parent of Keagan and Sadie) with ALL of our WMS children. Ryan invited each class to create artwork that provides illustration for a page of his text. The book also recognizes each child's efforts through a student pictorial directory on the final pages. In the sweet prose of this beautiful story, Ryan reflects the wonderment of "sky-gazing" from a young child's perspective. WMS is grateful to Ryan for providing this special opportunity for the children to be illustrators, and for his plans to gift all proceeds from sale of the book to the WMS Playground.

Want a copy? Available by pre-orders only $10 per book. They will be ready in May! Call 884-4232.

WMS Honors our GRG Families! (Grandparents Raising Grandchildren)

Currently, 45 children attending WMS are cared for on a regular basis by their grandparents, in loving support of the grandchild(ren) while parents work. At WMS, we are seeing a rise in GRG commitments each school year.

*If you know of a grandparent helping to raise a child who does not attend WMS, they are cordially invited to attend this reception and meet others. Please contact Susan Sumpter, Debbie Foust, or Jared Stine.

My time in Haiti with HPU Students

A few weeks ago I led a team of High Point University students to Cange, Haiti. This 'Alternative Spring Break' gives HPU students the opportunity to expand their global perspective while serving and working in places around the world. We prepared in several ways. We collected creative arts and school supplies. We raised $500 per person to distribute during our trip. We also acknowledged that this trip was more about immersion than service, and we used the terminology of "pilgrimage" to frame the desire for our experience.

Our team, along with co-leader Anna Ventrone of HPU Student Life, spent seven days working alongside pastors, teachers, parents, young adults, and community leaders. We were joined by five other students from Florida International University and the University of Miami. These Florida students were on a similar immersion trip and stayed with us in Cange, so we coordinated many of our activities with each other in mind.

On Monday we visited La Pleiade school in Cange, a school for K-12 students. These students pay $100/year to attend this school, but unfortunately, many teachers and administrators are paid behind schedule because so many families struggle to afford the tuition. Stop Hunger Now provides a lunch meal for these students every day, enabling them to learn and develop with a nutritious, balanced meal. At La Pleiade, HPU students delivered letters from American students encouraging Haitian students to focus on school, to work hard, and to listen to their teachers.

Haitian students responded with letters of their own, writing about their school subjects, families, and favorite community activities. Later in the day, HPU students split into two groups. In one group they gave interviews about their college majors, personalities, skills, and abilities in order to encourage older Haitian students to plan for life after high school. The second group worked with FIU and UM students to teach English, demonstrate hand washing, and teach simple first aid techniques.

On Tuesday, HPU students hiked twelve miles round-trip to Site Jane (pronounced 'City Jane'). This remote village is only accessible on foot or by mule. We paid $250 to provide a healthy community meal to 150 school children and local adults. We carried paint supplies with us and worked with the children to cultivate their creative spirits. We also visited one of two gardens recently developed to provide a sustainable food source for the community.

On Wednesday, HPU Students traveled to Bernaco, a local community with a growing school. After the 2010 earthquake, many orphaned children traveled north of Port-au-Prince to live with extended family. These families could not afford to support so many extra children, so local leaders in Bernaco decided to start a school. While there, our group sang and danced with children, and participated in creative arts activities with the children. We met several families in need in the community. One of them cared for a disabled child who had no hope of further development. Many children with disabilities are abandoned in Haiti, but the devotion of this family touched the hearts of HPU students.

We visited a two acre garden in the process of being developed as a sustainable food source for nearby families. Wesley Memorial recently approved a $5,000 grant for this community garden through an organization called Ansanm Ministries. Ansanm, which means "together" in Creole, supports students and schools in Site Jane and Bernaco. Once fully planted, this garden will feed over 500 people and help residents earn a living by selling the surplus resources.

On Thursday, HPU Students traveled down 540 steps to Bas Cange, or Lower Cange. HPU students learned about the history of the community, including the story of the development of a Hydroelectric dam by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers that flooded local farmland and left families with little notice to relocate. This school, with little funding, uses volunteer teachers and meets in a canvas tent. Our group participated in creative arts, hand washing, and jewelry activities before marching back up the stairs in 90° heat.

Many students told me that this trip was better than any spring break they could have planned themselves. One student, Grace, noted this: "The people of Cange taught me what true love for your friends, your God, and yourself really is. We met people who we would consider the poorest of the poor in America, yet their joyful souls, creative spirits, and loving hearts made them priceless. The people I met and moments I experienced in this tiny village have awakened a sense of purpose in me, a will to influence others everyday with love and kindness, and a drive to serve those in need."

By the end of the week, we distributed our school supplies and nearly $5,300 to several important causes, including:

- $1,320 for teachers at Bas Cange school
- $1,320 for teachers at La Pleiade school
- $1,320 for a local community library initiative
- $100 for a family providing care to their disabled child in Bernaco

- $200 for a widowed woman with five children and no other support
- $750 for a water pump for a vegetable garden at Site Jane

Thank you, Wesley Memorial, for giving me the time and space to connect with our local college students and serve with them as they grapple with questions of faith, service, poverty, and their future vocations. God has called us to build God's kingdom in High Point, and that means investing in the students who live and learn around us. Want to experience a trip like this through Wesley Memorial? Talk to me, Al Ward, or Jim Holcomb of the Missions & Community Impact team.

You will not want to miss these jubilant pieces which employ a variety of ringing techniques and fully express the joy of Easter Day and the resurrected Christ. Adult Handbells will not have rehearsal on April 9 but will resume rehearsals on April 16. On May 17 they will ring for worship.

At the 11 am Easter service the Chancel Choir will sing with trumpet and percussion the great anthem by Ralph Vaughan Williams, "Let All The World In Every Corner Sing" and a Mack Wilberg anthem, "Redeemer of Israel". Youth Handbells will not have rehearsal on April 5. They will rehearse on April 12, 19 and 26. On May 3 there will be a short rehearsal followed by an ice cream sundae party. On May 10 they will ring for worship.

Wesley Ringers, our 3-5 grade handbell choir, ended their year with a St. Patrick's Day ice cream party. They will ring for worship on Palm Sunday.

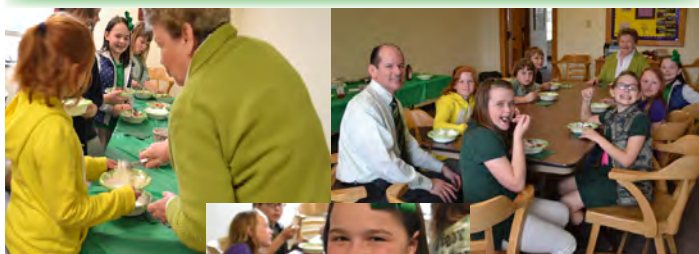

A huge thank you to all of our Anthem Angels. Since September, 2013 Anthem Angels have provided 21 anthems and 4 major works for the traditional music library. This is a tremendous gift to worship and allows the choir to sing some of the best and newest sacred music. If you have not heard your anthem yet, keep listening. It will be sung in worship soon.

SUMMER MUSIC CAMP!! Parents of children in grades 2-5, please put June 22-25 on your calendars. We are having a MUSIC CAMP from 9-12 each day. Our theme is "What A Friend We Have In Jesus". The children will get to experience singing, drama, liturgical dance and chime ringing, all focusing on the themes of Jesus as friend, helper and guide. On Thursday, June 25, parents and friends are invited at 11:30 for a child led worship service. There is no charge for this camp and members and friends alike are invited. Look for registration details on our website after Easter.
